

FINE ARTISTES

Fine Artistes are a company of visual artists and performers whose mission is to create original work inspired by the visual arts.

Pictured above is our "Studio in the Street", an interactive instant Art School set up outdoors, on a field or in the street, which directly involves the public in the creation of a painting.

The subject matter of the painting can be related to the place and the finished artwork will be a charming reminder of the event.

Underneath the Arches

An homage to the seminal 1971 performance art piece by Gilbert and George. In this manifestation our performers take to the outdoors with a charming and poignant piece of roving Music hall. Guaranteed to get the audience singing along!

Duane Hanson For Real

A living reconstruction of the famous pair of American Tourists (left)sculpted by Duane Hanson. Our performers unexpectedly come back to life after having been studied intensely by the audience. It's Art imitating Life imitating Art imitating.....

The History of Western Art

A tongue-in-cheek audio-visual lecture given by our "Art Historians". If you'd like it to the performance can conclude with an eclectic Artistic Disco that's guaranteed to get them all up on their feet!

Shop Window Art

Several artists take up residence in adjacent shop windows along a street. They each paint an original artwork through the day that is inspired by the items the store sells, or by the passers-by who stand and stare into the window at them as they paint.

Fine Artistes can also produce original bespoke pieces for you, designed along any theme that you have in mind. We will also create and supervise workshops for schools and colleges as well as art based corporate development team building exercises.

Private commissions are also undertaken - essentially, we can turn our hand to almost any creative task you may present us.
